

Downstroke Size Guide

You might have a huge collection of pens, but did you know that you can't treat them all the same? Your lettering size has to change with the specific pen.

A brush script "e" is the best letter to test a pen out with. The pen should allow you to write at a size that allows the loop of the "e" to be the same width (or a hair more) than the width of the widest downstroke. It should also be large enough to form a beautiful teardrop shape inside of the loop. Use the pen grouping worksheets to know which size guide worksheet would work best for each of your pen. Practicing with each pen at the proper size will allow you to make your lettering skills shine!
